

Bioponent joins Cerba European Lab

Bioponent, located in Brest and its region, joined the Cerba European Lab network this summer. It's constituted by nine laboratories and has an emergency technical platform in the largest clinic in the region and a AMP approval. 94 people work there, including eleven pathologists, for generating a turnover of 12.9 million euros. This acquisition allows us to complete the territorial coverage by developing Cerba European Lab in the West of France, with a presence in Brest which reinforce our historical position in Brittany.
